

6172 IMDS – Requirements and guidelines

Objective

Legal directives, ordinances and the IMDS regulations place high demands on compliance. After this course, you will be familiar with the requirements and know how to meet them. In particular, you will know the contents of the "General Structure" guideline and be able to apply its rules for the error-free creation of material data sheets in the IMDS. You will be able to interpret the guidelines correctly and integrate them efficiently into your IMDS process. In this way, they avoid unnecessary additional expenses for correction times. They support a functioning customer and supplier relationship and avoid material data sheet rejections.
