

6192 GADSL update – Critical Raw Materials (CRM)

Objective

You will learn the current background and international goals of the renewed GADSL. You will know the regional structure of the GASG, the organization and its members. You will learn the structure of the Excel-based GADSL list and its criteria for the inclusion of new pure substances. This will enable you to find GADSL-categorized pure substances in the IMDS dataset and to identify critical pure substances in time.

In addition, you will learn everything about the new Critical Raw Materials (CRM) group of pure substances and their reporting requirements from 2022. You now have the most important aspects for declaring your database in compliance with the law.

Content

- Influencing legal regulations
 - End-of-life Vehicles Directive and its current Annex II
 - Lead applications with exceptions, incl. E/E (electro/electronics)
 - REACH Regulation 1907/2006 in conjunction with CLP Regulation 1272/2008 (UN GHS)
 - Critical Raw Materials (CRM)
- Background and international goals of GADSL
 - Global Automotive Stake Holder Group (GASG)
 - Structure, organization and members
- The GADSL database
 - Download the list
 - Criteria for declarable substances
 - Classification of declarable substances
 - Cause key
 - Abbreviations
 - Homogeneous material reporting in IMDS
 - Structure of the global GADSL list
- IMDS change management and update of the GADSL list
 - General MDS reporting in the IMDS
 - New creation and version control
 - The GADSL change management
 - Update of the GADSL list and possible consequences
 - Support by analysis functions
- Critical Raw Materials in the GADSL List
 - Background of the reporting obligation
 - Which substances are CRM
 - Implications in IMDS for companies
 - MDS update

Training method

Presentation and demonstration

Participants

Developers, design engineers, environment officers and quality management staff in the automotive area

Requirements

Basic knowledge in the use of PC and internet as well as IMDS skills

Duration

180 minutes (plus breaks)

Maximum number of participants: 14

Public training

Current fees and dates can be found on our website www.imds-professional.com

Exclusive training

You can also book this training course exclusively. Your advantage: You set the time and the content may be customized according to your personal needs and requirements.

Please request your personal offer:

Phone +49 6083 91 30 30

info@imds-professional.com