

Regulatory requirements and automotive industry standards are becoming increasingly stringent. At the same time, the updated ELV regulation has already been finalized in draft form and will soon be introduced across the European Union.

This seminar provides you with an early overview of the current status and upcoming changes—particularly those affecting the use of application codes in IMDS—so you can stay ahead and ensure compliance with confidence.

>> OBJECTIVE

In this seminar, you will gain a comprehensive understanding of the tasks involved and the role application codes play within IMDS. You will learn where to find application codes and how to verify them correctly.

You will be able to confidently determine the correct application code and assign it within the system in order to prevent rejection reasons in advance.

This enables you to ensure compliance with legal directives (ELV) and meet the requirements of the automotive industry.

Your advantage: After completing this seminar, you will be able to understand new ELV requirements at an early stage, reliably determine and correctly assign the appropriate application code in IMDS, proactively prevent rejections, and ensure full compliance with both legal regulations and automotive industry requirements.
